Nitishastras

What is Niti?

The word nīti (नीति) is derived from the Sanskrit verb root ṇīñ (णीञ्), meaning: prāpaṇe (प्रापणे) ‘to carry’, ‘to lead’, ‘to bring’, ‘to convey’, ‘to take’. Thus the word nīti refers to the science of proper guidance or direction as stated by śukrācārya:

नयनान्नीतिरुच्यते (शुक्रनीति १.१५७)

nayanānnītirucyate (śukranīti 1.157)

नयन अर्थात् ले जाने से नीति कहते हैं ।

Nīti is so called because it guides, leads.

Major Nitishastras

Text Name	Author/Compiler	Chapter	No. of Ślokas
NītiŚataka	Bhartṛhari	-	110
Chāṇakyanīti	Chāṇakya	17	263
Viduranīti	Maharṣi Vyāsa	8	579
Śukranīti	Śukrāchārya	5	2567
Kāmandakīyanītisāra	Maharshi Kamandaka	19	1186

Importance of Nitishastras

अल्पायुर्भूदाद्यर्थं संक्षिप्तं तर्कविस्तृतम्। क्रियैकदेशबोधीनि शास्त्राण्यन्यानि सन्ति हि॥
सर्वोपजीवकं लोकस्थितिकृन्नीतिशास्त्रकम्। धर्मार्थकाममूलं हि स्मृतं मोक्षप्रदं यतः॥

(Śukranīti, 1.4-5)

alpāyurbhūbhṛdādyartham saṁkṣiptam tarkavistṛtam| kriyaikadeśabodhīni śāstrāṇyanyāni santi hi||
sarvopajīvakam lokasthitikṛnnītiśāstrakam| dharmārthakāmamūlam hi smṛtam mokṣapradam yataḥ||

जो संक्षिप्त होते हुये भी तर्क से परिपूर्ण है और आधुनिक अल्पजीवी राजा आदि के लिये पढ़ने योग्य है। नीतिशास्त्र से अन्य जितने शास्त्र हैं वे सब व्यवहार के एक अंश को बताने वाले हैं। किन्तु सभी लोगों का उपकारक, समाज की स्थिति को सुरक्षित रखने वाला नीतिशास्त्र ही है क्योंकि यह धर्म, अर्थ तथा काम का प्रधान कारण और मोक्ष को देनेवाला कहा हुआ है।

By a process of selection, the essence of Nītiśāstra, which was an extensive argumentative thesis, has been compiled in an abridged form by Vasiṣṭha and others like myself for the increase of prosperity of rulers and others whose life is of short span. All other śāstras throw light only on one part of day-to-day affairs. But Nītiśāstra is helpful to everyone, it keeps the state of society intact for it is the origin of dharma, artha, kāma and also the giver of mokṣa.

Importance of Nitishastras

सर्वलोकव्यवहारस्थितिर्नीत्या विना नहि।
यथाऽशनैर्विना देहस्थितिर्न स्याद्धि देहिनाम्॥

(Śukranīti, 1.11)

sarvalokavyavahārasthitirnītyā vinā nahi|
yathā'sanairvinā dehasthitirna syāddhi dehinām||

संपूर्ण लोक-व्यवहार की स्थिति बिना नीति शास्त्र के उसी प्रकार नहीं हो सकती, जिस प्रकार भोजन के बिना प्राणियों के देह की स्थिति नहीं रह सकती।

All the transactions of the world cannot be sustained without Nīti, like body of people cannot be sustained without food.

Importance of Nitishastras

सर्वाभीष्टकरं नीतिशास्त्रं स्यात्सर्वसंमतम्॥
अत्यावश्यं नृपस्यापि स सर्वेषां प्रभुर्यतः॥

(Śukranīti, 1.12)

sarvābhīṣṭakaram nītiśāstram syātsarvasaṃmatam||
atyāvaśyam nṛpasyāpi sa sarveṣāṃ prabhuryataḥ||

लोगों के संपूर्ण अभीष्ट को सिद्ध करने वाला यह नीतिशास्त्र है - इसे सभी स्वीकार करते हैं। और यह राजाओं के लिये भी अवश्य जानने योग्य है। क्योंकि राजा सभी लोगों का स्वामी है।

Nītiśāstra is favored by everyone as it fulfills all the wishes. It is highly crucial for the king for he is the lord of all.

Benefits of Good company

- जाड्यं धियो हरति सिञ्चति वाचि सत्यं, मानोन्नतिं दिशति पापमपाकरोति ।

चेतः प्रसादयति दिक्षु तनोति कीर्तिं, सत्सङ्गतिः कथय किं न करोति पुंसाम् ॥

जिस सत्सङ्गति के प्रताप से बुद्धि की जड़ता नष्ट हो जाती है, सत्यभाषण में अभिरूचि होती है, सन्मान की वृद्धि होती है, पाप दूर होता है, चित्त प्रसन्न होता है, और दशदिशाओं में सुकीर्ति फैलती है, वह सत्सङ्ग मनुष्यों के लिए जो बात न कर सके वैसी संसार में कोई भी वस्तु नहीं है।

Good company is sure to drive out darkness from ignorant minds, water then words with truth, point them out the precise path of advancement, root out sinful propensities, enlighten their hearts and winnow the fragrance of their fame throughout the four corners of the universe. There is nothing indeed which cannot be achieved by our communion with virtuous sages.

- क्षिप्रं विजानाति चिरं शृणोति विज्ञाय चार्थं भजते न कामात् । नासम्पृष्टो व्युपयुंक्ते परार्थे तत्प्रज्ञानं प्रथमं पण्डितस्य ॥२३॥

जो शीघ्र समझ लेता है, दूसरे की बात को धैर्यपूर्वक देर तक सुनता है, शब्द-रूप-रस आदि इन्द्रियों के विषयों का कामना से सेवन नहीं करता, बिना पूछे दूसरों के कार्यों में सम्मति नहीं देता अथवा पराये कार्य में बिना कहे टाँग नहीं अड़ाता-ये पण्डित की प्रमुख पहचान हैं।

He, who grasps the most difficult subject in a very short time, listens to the talks of others patiently for a long time, pursues the objects of the senses with judgment and not from desire and does not give his

Importance of perfect guidance

- यदि न स्यान्नरपतिः सम्यङ् नेता ततः प्रजाः। अकर्णधारा जलधौ विप्लवेतेह नौरिव॥६५॥

यदि लोक में राजा उत्तम रीति से नेता (प्रजाओं को अपने-२ धर्म पर ले चलनेवाला) न हो तो समुद्र में बिना कर्णधार (पतवार पकड़नेवाले मल्लाह) नौका की भांति प्रजा नष्ट हो जाती है।

If the king is not a perfect guide, his subjects will get into trouble as a boat without the helmsman sinks in a sea.

sources of all prosperity

- प्रभावः शुचिता मैत्री त्यागः सत्यं कृतज्ञता ।

कुलं शीलं दमश्चेति गुणाः सम्पत्तिहेतवः ॥ २४॥

प्रभावः = शत्रुओं से अभिभूत न होना, शुचिता = (परस्त्री, द्रव्य, हिंसा से रहित होना) पवित्रता, (मैत्री समस्त प्राणियों में मित्र भावना, त्यागः = (जागतिक) पदार्थों का सत्पात्रों में दान, सत्यं = किसी भी कार्य के लिये प्रज्ञा करने पर उसे करना । कृतज्ञता किये हुये उपकार को प्रत्युपकार बुद्धि से जानना, कुलं प्रशस्त वंश, शीलं सुन्दर स्वभाव, दमः- क्लेश को सहन करना, इतिगुणाः = ये समस्त गुण, सम्पत्तिहेतवः - आत्मसम्पदा के प्राप्ति के कारणभूत हैं ।

Prioritization

- आपदर्थे धनं रक्षेच्छ्रीमतश्च किमापदः। कदाचिच्चलिता लक्ष्मीः सञ्चितापि विनश्यति॥७॥

विपत्ति निवारण के लिये धन की रक्षा करनी उचित है, श्रीमानों को भी क्या आपत्ति आती है ? हाँ कदाचित् दैवयोग से लक्ष्मी चलित हो तो संचित भी नष्ट हो जाती है।

Save your wealth against future calamity. Do not say, "What fear has a rich man of calamity?" When riches begin to forsake one even the accumulated stock dwindles away.

Importance of education

- विद्या नाम नरस्य रूपमधिकं प्रच्छन्नगुप्तं धनं, विद्या भोगकरी यशः सुखकरी विद्या गुरुणां गुरुः।

विद्या बन्धुजनो विदेशगमने विद्या परा देवता, विद्या राजसु पूजिता न तु धनं विद्याविहीनः पशुः

विद्या मनुष्य का सच्चा रूप ओर छिपा हुआ धन है ; विद्या मनुष्य को भोग, सुख और सुयश देने वाली है ; विद्या गुरुओं की भी गुरु है, परदेश में विद्या ही बन्धु का काम करती है, विद्या ही परम देवता है, राजाओं में विद्या का ही मान है, धन का नहीं । जिसमें विद्या नहीं, वह पशु के समान है ।

Knowledge is man's true form and hidden wealth; Knowledge is the giver of enjoyment, happiness and prosperity to man; Vidya is the guru of the gurus too, in the foreign country only knowledge acts as a friend, knowledge is the supreme deity, among kings only education is respected, not wealth. One who lacks knowledge is like an animal.

Achieving the Aim in Life

Four purusharthas (4 objects of human pursuit)

1. Dharma: Righteousness
2. Artha: means of life
3. Kāma: desire, wish, passion, pleasure
4. Mokṣa: liberation from pain, sorrows

Dharma is foremost. If dharma is ignored, artha and kāma - profit and pleasure respectively - lead to social chaos

Four Human Pursuits: Puruṣārtha Chatuṣṭaya

Pūḥ/pur/पुर = dwelling place, body,

पुरि शेते; one who śete = dwells inside the pūr/pūḥ i.e. body is puruṣa/पुरुष, soul/self/ātman.

अर्थ/ārtha refers to that what is desired by all.

Something that is desired by all sentient beings is termed puruṣārtha/पुरुषार्थ.

Four Human Pursuits: Puruṣārtha Chatuṣṭaya

Four purusharthas (4 objects of human pursuit)

1. Dharma: Righteousness
2. Artha: means of life
3. Kāma: desire, wish, passion, pleasure
4. Mokṣa: liberation from pain, sorrows

To get rid of pain and suffering is most natural to human beings

Purpose of education: knowing the means of Puruṣārtha Chatuṣṭaya (वेदनं विद्या, तच्च न घटादिवेदनम्, अपि तु पुरुषार्थसाधनवेदनम् – न्यायमंजरी

Etymology of Dharma

अर्तिस्तुसुहृसृधृ... मन् (उणा. १.१४०)
artistusuhusṛdhr̥... man (uṇā. 1.140)

धृञ् धारणे, धृङ् अवस्थाने dhr̥ñ dhāraṇe, dhr̥ñ avasthāne; meaning: to "sustain", "uphold", "bear",
"support"

धृङ् / धृञ् + मन् → धृ + म → धर् + म → धर्म
dhr̥ñ / dhr̥ñ + man → dhr̥ + ma → dhar + ma → dharma

धारणात् धर्म उच्यते

Dhāraṇāt dharma ucyate

That which sustains is called Dharma

Dharma literally means 'that which holds' or 'that which supports'

Etymology of Dharma

धर्मो विश्वस्य जगतः प्रतिष्ठा, लोके धर्मिष्ठम् प्रजा उपसर्पन्ति, धर्मेण पापमपनुदति, धर्मे सर्वं प्रतिष्ठितम् तस्मात् धर्मं परमं वदन्ति (Mahanarayanopanishad 79.7)

dharmo viśvasya jagataḥ pratiṣṭhā, loke dharmiṣṭham prajā upasarpanti, dharmaṇa pāpam apanudati, dharme sarvaṃ pratiṣṭhitam tasmāt dharmaṃ paramaṃ vadanti.

"Dharma is the basis and sustaining power of the entire cosmic world. In this world, all originated entities evolve only by following the Dharma. Through Dharma vices and evil get dissipated. All are situated in Dharma. Therefore, Dharma is said to be the supreme."

Definition of Dharma

dharmena gamanamūrdhvaṃ gamanamadhastād bhavatyadharmena

(sāṃkhyakārikā, 44)

by following dharma one goes upwards and by following adharma one goes downwards.

dharmo viśvasya jagataḥ pratiṣṭhā, loke dharmiṣṭham prajā upasarpanti, dharmena pāpam apanudati, dharme sarvaṃ pratiṣṭhitam tasmāt dharmam paramam vadanti.

(Mahanarayanopanishad, 79.7)

Dharma is the foundational and sustaining force of the entire cosmic realm. All entities in the world progress solely by adhering to Dharma. Vices and evil dissipate through the practice of Dharma. Everything resides within Dharma. Hence, dharma is said to be the supreme.

Definition of Dharma

yato'bhyudaya-niḥśreyasa-siddhiḥ sa dharmmaḥ

(Vaiśeṣikadarśana, 1.1.2)

The one that enables us to reach worldly goals and the ultimate goal of liberation/enlightenment (spiritual upliftment) is called dharma.

Dharma is Dutiful Conduction ahimsā sūnṛtā vāṇī satyaṃ śaucaṃ dayā kṣamā.

varṇinām liṅgināñcaiva sāmānyo dharma ucyate.

(Kāmandakīyanītisāra, 2.32)

Ahiṃsa, the expression of kind and beneficial words, truthfulness, purification of mind and body, compassion and tolerance are said to be the common dharma/obligations of all sects, irrespective of their varied lifestyles.

Cause-Effect Relationship between āchāra (Conduct) and dharma

श्रूयतां धर्मसर्वस्वं श्रुत्वा चाप्यवधार्यताम् ।

(viṣṇudharmottarapurāṇa, 253.40)

अर्थ/arthamoney/wealth

अर्थ्यते प्रार्थ्यते सर्वैरिति अर्थः

artha refers to that what is desired by all

Importance of Money / Prosperity

यस्यास्ति वित्तं स नरः कुलीनः स पण्डितः स श्रुतवान्गुणज्ञः ।
स एव वक्ता स च दर्शनीयः सर्वे गुणाः काञ्चनमाश्रयन्ति ॥

sa eva vaktā sa ca darśanīyaḥ sarve guṇāḥ kāñcanamāśrayanti (nītiśataka)

One who is wealthy is also considered as:

1. Well born
2. Learned
3. A man of information
4. A good judge of qualifications
5. An able speaker
6. A handsome person

Everything good is invariably dependent upon gold (i.e. money).

Significance of Artha

यस्यास्ति वित्तं स नरः कुलीनः स पण्डितः स श्रुतवान्गुणज्ञः ।
स एव वक्ता स च दर्शनीयः सर्वे गुणाः काञ्चनमाश्रयन्ति ॥

(Nitishataka, 41)

One who is wealthy is also considered as:

1. Well born
2. Learned
3. A man of information
4. A good judge of qualifications
5. An able speaker
6. A handsome person

Everything good is invariably dependent upon gold (i.e. money).

Significance of Artha

yasyārthās-tasya mitrāṇi yasyārthās-tasya bāṃdhavāḥ.
yasyārthāḥ sa pumāṃl-loke yasyārthaḥ sa ca paṇḍita.

(Cāṇakyanīti, 6.5)

One who has wealth attracts friends and relatives. A wealthy person is considered human, and the wealthy is esteemed as a scholar.

Significance of Artha

tānīndriyāṇi sakalāni tadeva karma, sā buddhir-apratihatā vacanam tadeva.
arthoṣmaṇā virahitaḥ puruṣaḥ sa eva,
tvanyaḥ kṣaṇena bhavatīti vicitram etat.

(Nitishataka, 40)

It's astonishing how a person, even while possessing the same sense organs, actions, bright intellect, and eloquence, undergoes a significant and immediate change upon losing the warmth of wealth

Causes Leading to Wealth

dhṛtiḥ śamo damaḥ śaucaṃ kārūṇyam vāg-aniṣṭhurā.
mitrāṇām cānabhidrohaḥ saptaitāḥ samidhaḥ śriyaḥ.

(viduraniti, 6.37)

Perseverance (dhṛti), tranquility of mind (śama), self control (dama), purity (śauca), kindness, gentle speech and amiability -- these seven qualities are the fuel of the flame of wealth.

Causes of Losing Wealth

asatyatā niṣṭhuratā kṛtaghnatā bhayaṃ pramādo'lasatā viṣāditā.
vṛthābhimāno hyatidīrghasūtratā tathāṅganākṣādi-vināśanam śriyaḥ.

(Kāmandakīyanītisāra, 10.39)

Falsehood, cruelty, ingratitude, fearfulness, negligence, laziness, despondency, excessive pride, extreme procrastination, indulgence in gambling and women/sexuality - these are the factors that lead to the destruction of wealth.

... vinaśyati ... pramādāddhanam.

(Nitishataka, 42)

wealth is ruined by carelessness

Ultimate Ends of Money

दानं भोगो नाशस्तिस्रो गतयो भवन्ति वित्तस्य । यो न ददाति न भुङ्क्ते तस्य तृतीया गतिर्भवति ॥

dānaṃ bhogo nāśastisro gatayo bhavanti vittasya yo na dadāti na bhuṅkte tasya tṛtīyā gatirbhavati

(nītiśataka)

There are only three ultimate ends of money:

1. dāna (charity)
2. boga (enjoyment)
3. nāśa (waste)

He who neither gives his riches in charity nor uses them for his own personal enjoyment is certainly doomed to the third condition i.e. he is sure to lose them altogether.

Explanation of kāma dravyārtha-sparśa-samyoge yā prītir-upajāyate.

sa kāmaś-citta-saṁkalpaḥ śarīraṁ nāsyā vidyate.
(mahābhārata, 3.33.30)

The happiness experienced due to contact with various objects or the possession of wealth is named kāma. Kāma resides in the mind. It does not have a physical form.

kāmena yuktā ṛṣayas-tapasyeva samāhitāḥ.
palāśa-phala-mūlāśā vāyu-bhakṣāḥ susaṁyatāḥ.
(mahābhārata, 12.167.30)

Even the ṛṣis are driven by desire (kāma) in their endeavors of tapas (austerity). They sustain themselves on roots, shoots, and fruits, drawing nourishment from the air to maintain their ascetic practices.

Kāma in a balanced way

satataṃ yaśca kāmārthī netarāv-anutiṣṭhati.
mitrāṇi tasya naśyanti dharmārthābhyāṃ ca hīyate.

...

tasmād-dharmārthayor-nityaṃ na pramādyanti paṇḍitāḥ.
prakṛtiḥ sā hi kāmasya pāvakasyāraṇir-yathā.

(mahābhārata, 3.33.26-28)

The individual who relentlessly chases kāma (desires) but neglects the pursuit of dharma and artha, loses friends and loses both dharma and artha as well. An individual lacking in dharma and artha, indulging in pleasure as they please, ultimately encounters certain death after the period of indulgence, much like a fish meeting its end when its water source dries up. This is why the wise people never neglect dharma and artha, as the fusion of dharma and artha is the fundamental requirement for kāma (happiness), much like fuel is indispensable for fire.

Kāma in a balanced way

sarvathā dharma-mūlo'rtho dharmaś-cārtha-parigrahaḥ.
itaretara-yonī tau viddhi meghodadhī yathā.

(mahābhārata, 3.33.29)

Money (artha) always originates from dharma (virtue), and dharma from artha. Understand that they rely on each other, much like the ocean and the clouds replenishing each other.

kāmasya nendriya-prītir-lābho jīveta yāvatā jīvasya tattva-jijñāsā nārtho yaś ceha karmabhiḥ

(śrīmadbhagavadgītā, 1.2.10)

The fruit of kāma (aspirations/desires) is not solely gratification of the senses but life itself and the fruit of life is to inquire into the Absolute Truth. No other pursuits should be the goal of one's actions.

Mokṣa

‘muc’ meaning: liberation, release, escape, freedom:

mucyate sarvair-duḥkha-bandhanair-yatra sa mokṣaḥ that which frees one from all painful bondages is called mokṣa.

Janma-mṛtyu-jarā-duḥkhair-vyādhibhir-mānasa-klamaiḥ.

Dṛṣṭvaiva saṃtataṃ lokaṃ ghaṭen-mokṣāya buddhimān.

(mahābhārata, 12.215.2)

birth, death, deterioration, suffering, illnesses, and mental exhaustion are prevalent in this world. Observing this, the wise endeavors for mokṣa (liberation).

Significance of the order

The order of dharma, artha, kāma and mokṣa signifies cause-effect relationship in a sequential manner

Dharma is foremost. If dharma is ignored, artha and kāma - profit and pleasure respectively - lead to social chaos

त्रिवर्ग (trivarga)

One has to excel at least in one of the objects of human pursuits dharmārtha-kāma-mokṣeṣu yasyaiko'pi na vidyate.

phalaṃ janma hi martyeṣu maraṇaṃ tasya kevalam.

(Cāṇakyanīti, 3.20)

The person who has not acquired at least one of the following: dharma, artha, kāma, or mokṣa will face continual birth and death.

त्रिवर्ग (trivarga)

sukhaṃ ca na vinā dharmāt tasmād dharmaparo bhavet.
trivargaśūnyaṃ nārambhaṃ bhajettaṃ cāvirodhayan.

(Śukranīti, 3.2)

One should not pursue mokṣa without striving to attain the other three puruṣārthas — dharma, artha, and kāma. Simultaneously, one should persistently pursue mokṣa without forsaking the other three.

त्रिवर्ग (trivarga)

Balancing the human pursuits

dharmārthakāmāḥ samam eva sevyāḥ yo hyekamattaḥ sa naro jaghanyaḥ dvayostu dākṣyaṁ pravadanti madhyaṁ sa uttamo yo'bhiratas-trivarge.

(mahābhārata, 12.167.40)

Striving for dharma, artha, and kāma in equal measure is essential. One who prioritizes just one of these lacks superiority. A person is mediocre if they pursue only two. The highest excellence lies in following all three (trivarga).

त्रिवर्ग (trivarga)

Balancing the human pursuits

eko hyatyāsevito dharmārthakāmānām ātmānaṃ itarau ca pīḍayati

(kauṭilīya-arthaśāstra, 1.7.5)

When any of dharma, artha, or kāma is pursued excessively, it not only harms the other two but also undermines its own essence.

Dharma, adhama, sukha, duḥkha, icchā, dveṣa, prayatna, jñāna, samskāra are said to be the signs that prove the existence of the soul.

आत्मा/पुरुष

- ❖ Sāṃkhya Sūtra 1.138: सामान्येन विवादाभावाद्धर्मवन्न साधनम्
 - There is no dispute about the existence of Ātmā in general similar to dharma. Therefore, no special means are needed to prove it.
- ❖ Sāṃkhya Sūtra 1.139: शरीरादिव्यतिरिक्तः पुमान्
 - The Ātmā is distinct from the body etc.
- ❖ Sāṃkhya Sūtra 1.140: संहतपरार्थत्वात्
 - Since the संघात (aggregate) of प्रकृति (body) is for the sake of something apart from it, therefore, the Ātmā is distinct from the body.

आत्मा/पुरुष

- ❖ Sāṃkhya Sūtra 1.141: त्रिगुणादिविपर्ययात्
 - Ātmā has reverse qualities of त्रिगुण (सत्त्व, रजस्, तमस्). Soul is चेतन (animate) प्रकृति is अचेतन (inanimate). So, it is distinct from प्रकृति.
- ❖ Sāṃkhya Sūtra 1.142: अधिष्ठानाच्चेति
 - Since the Ātmā is the अधिष्ठाता (governor) of the body, so the Ātmā is distinct from body.
- ❖ Sāṃkhya Sūtra 1.143: भोक्तृभावात्
 - Ātmā is distinct from प्रकृति, body; because Ātmā is the भोक्ता (experiencer).

आत्मा/पुरुष

- ❖ Sāṃkhya Sūtra 1.144: कैवल्यार्थं प्रवृत्तेः
 - Inclination towards कैवल्य (liberation) is seen in the Ātmā, which distinguishes it from the Prakṛti.
- ❖ Sāṃkhya Sūtra 1.145: जडप्रकाशयोगात्प्रकाशः
 - The Prakṛti is जड (insentient, unintelligent), whereas Ātmā is चेतन (sentient, intelligent).
- ❖ Sāṃkhya Sūtra 1.146: निर्गुणत्वान्न चिद्धर्मा
 - Since Ātmā is निर्गुण (void of Sattva, Rajas, Tamas), it is not चिद्धर्मा. It is चेतनस्वरूप.

आत्मा/पुरुष

- ❖ Sāṃkhya Sūtra 1.147: श्रुत्या सिद्धस्य नापलापस्तत्प्रत्यक्षबाधात्
 - There is no denial of what is established by Vedic scriptures just because its direct perception is excluded.
- ❖ Sāṃkhya Sūtra 1.148: सुषुप्त्याद्यसाक्षित्वम्
 - If Ātmā weren't चित्स्वरूप, it would not experience its own dis/comfort in deep sleep like “I slept well.”
- ❖ Sāṃkhya Sūtra 1.149: जन्मादिव्यवस्थातः पुरुषबहुत्वम्
 - Due to the different experiences of pain, pleasure, birth, death etc at the same time; there is a multiplicity of souls i.e. souls are many/multiple.

आत्मा/पुरुष

- ❖ Sāṃkhya Sūtra 6.1: अस्त्यात्मा नास्तित्वसाधनाभावात्
 - Ātmā exists; because there is absence of its non-existence.
- ❖ Sāṃkhya Sūtra 6.2: देहादिव्यतिरिक्तोऽसौ वैचित्र्यात्
 - Ātmā is different from body etc because of the complete difference between them.
- ❖ Sāṃkhya Sūtra 6.3: षष्ठीव्यपदेशादपि
 - Because Ātmā is referred in षष्ठी विभक्ति (sixth/genitive/possessive case marker); ex. 'My body', 'my understanding'. it also shows that Ātmā is different from body etc.

आत्मा/पुरुष

- ❖ Sāṃkhya Sūtra 6.4: न शिलापुत्रवद् धर्मिग्राहकमानबाधात्
 - In the case of Ātmā the reference with षष्ठी विभक्ति (i.e. my body etc) is not like “the statue’s body”. As there is no body other than the statue in such expressions. But in the expressions like “my body” body is different from the speaker.
- ❖ Sāṃkhya Sūtra 6.5: अत्यन्तदुःखनिवृत्त्या कृतकृत्यता
 - The complete cessation of sufferings is the कृतकृत्यता (done what was to be done) of Ātmā.

Śarīra (body)

चेष्टेन्द्रियार्थाश्रयः शरीरम्
ceṣṭendriyārthāśrayaḥ śarīram

(Nyāya Darśana 1.1.11)

- ❖ Śarīra is the locus of (base, residence of)
 - All actions of body. (ceṣṭā चेष्टा),
 - The sense organs (indriya इन्द्रिय), and

Introduction

Introduction of the Inner Development Goals (IDGs) in 2020 by the Ekskåret Foundation

The IDG framework aims to help accelerate the realization of the 17 SDGs.

The Need for Integration

Research is crucial in adequately conceptualizing the integration of the IDG's and the SDG's.

Integrating spirituality is essential for achieving sustainability transformations, as it forms a fundamental base for holistic development.

Despite its comprehensive nature, the spiritual dimension of sustainability, which intertwines spirituality and sustainability (Luetz & Nunn, 2023), must be addressed in the 2030 Agenda and its implementation.

Exploring Etymology: Unveiling the Origins and Meanings of Key Concepts

01

Puruṣārtha- Something that is desired by all sentient beings

- The word pūḥ or pura means dwelling place, body, one who śete, meaning dwells inside the body is puruṣa, soul/self/ātman.
- The term artha refers to what is desired by all 02

Catuṣṭaya- means 'consisting of four elements'

- derived from catur (four) and the nominal suffix "-ṭayap" in the sense of 'that of which the parts are so many'

03

Dharma - refers to the innate nature of an entity that 'holds' or 'supports'

- derived from the Sanskrit verb dhr, meaning "to sustain, to uphold, to bear, to support".

04

Ātman- refers to an entity that constantly obtains karmaphala, moves from one body to another and has the ability to know.

- derived from the verb ata, meaning sātatya-gamana (constant gamana)

05

Śarīra (Body)- It means that the very innate nature of the body is to perish

- derived from the verb 'śṛ' meaning 'to tear', 'to hurt', 'to injure', 'to kill', 'to destroy'

The word catuṣṭaya means 'consisting of four elements'. Thus, the phrase puruṣārtha catuṣṭaya refers to a set of four objects of human pursuit. These four human pursuits are:

1. Dharma: righteousness, sustaining power
2. Artha: means of life
3. Kāma: desire, wish, passion, pleasure
4. Mokṣa: liberation from pain, sorrows

The framework of Puruṣārtha Catuṣṭaya

CAUSE-EFFECT RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN ĀCĀRA (CONDUCT) AND DHARMA

There lies a cause-effect relationship between dharma and ācāra (good conduct), which ultimately leads to inner development and happiness:

Dharma is born of good conduct, which brings the highest welfare to human beings; by observing it, one gets great fame here and supreme happiness in the world yet to come.

1	Dhṛti (patience/perseverance),
2	kṣamā (forgiveness),
3	dama (mastery over senses),
4	asteya (non-stealing),
5	śauca (outer and inner purity),
6	indriyanigraha (control of the senses),
7	dhī (understanding),
8	vidyā (knowledge of the soul),
9	satya (truthfulness), and
10	akrodha (absence of anger)

Manusmṛti, 6.92) talks about the ten characteristics of dharma.

The framework of Puruṣārtha Catuṣṭaya

CAUSE-EFFECT RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN DHARMA, ARTHA, KĀMA AND MOKṢA

ARTHA- Artha is a term used for acquisition of means for one's welfare, relatives, friends etc.

Śṛṅgāraprakāśa further classifies artha (money) broadly into three categories:

Nava (new): Earned by one's valor (svavīryārjita). It is of ten kinds.

Bhūtapūrva (old): lost but regained (pranaṣṭānīta)

Pitrya (ancestral): Received from ancestors (kulakramāgata)

KĀMA- The word kāma is derived from the verb kamu, meaning 'wish' or 'desire'.

MOKṢA- The word mokṣa is derived from the Sanskrit verb 'muc', meaning freedom, release, liberation.

The framework of Puruṣārtha Catuṣṭaya

CAUSE-EFFECT RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN DHARMA, ARTHA, KĀMA AND MOKṢA

Fulfillment of kāma (desires) is apparently the most important goal for a human being; but artha (wealth) acts as a causing factor to fulfilling our desires; sustainable acquisition of artha is caused by abiding by dharma (righteous means for earning).

Dharma is the primary element for pursuing human pursuits in the world. It helps as a guiding force in inner and outer development, fostering sustainable worldly prosperity and facilitating in the spiritual realm as well.

As said in Mahābhārata:18.5.49

I raise my arms and call out, but nobody listens to me. From dharma come artha and kāma. Why doesn't anybody take notice of this?

Dharma is foremost. If dharma is ignored, artha and kāma - profit and pleasure respectively - lead to chaos.

Cause-Effect Relation between Dharma, Artha, Kāma

धर्मादर्थोऽर्थतः कामः कामात् सुखफलोदयः।
आत्मानं हन्ति तौ (तान्) हत्वा युक्त्या यो न निषेवते॥

(कामन्दकीयनीतिसार १.५१)

dharmādartho'rthataḥ kāmaḥ kāmāt sukhaphalodayaḥ ātmānaṃ hanti tau (tān) hattvā yuktyā yo na niṣevate

(kāmandakīyanītisāra 1.51)

Dharma results in artha, artha results in fulfillment of kāma, and kāma gives rise to happiness. One who does not practice to acquire them tactically, harms self by losing them.

Cause-Effect Relation between Dharma and Artha

Ādi Śaṃkarācārya in Śrīmadbhagadgītā says:

जगतः स्थिति-कारणं प्राणिनाम् अभ्युदय-निःश्रेयसहेतुर्-यः स धर्मः

Jagataḥ sthiti-kāraṇaṃ prāṇināṃ sākṣād abhyudaya-niḥśreyasa- heturyaḥ
sa dharmaḥ

Dharma is the main factor that helps in keeping the setup of the entire world in excellent order, bringing about worldly prosperity for every living being, and facilitating their progress in the spiritual realm as well.'

Fruit of Adharma

अधर्मेणैधते तावत् ततो भद्राणि पश्यति ।
ततः सपत्नाञ् जयति समूलस्तु विनश्यति ॥

adharmeṇaidhate tāvat tato bhadrāṇi paśyati tataḥ sapatnāñ jayati samūlas-tu vinaśyati

(Manu. 4.174)

Those who indulge in adharma attain immediate success and secure fulfillment of their desires. They overpower their opponents. But ultimately their ruin down to the roots is certain.

Reflections on puruṣārthas for sustainable development

- Externally visible differences between human beings are superficial, but all human beings are the same at the core.
- Thus, reflecting on body and soul, inner qualities helps us understand that, at the core, all humans are the same.
- This understanding can help us consider Equity in humans and thus orient us towards achieving goals such as “SDG-5: Gender Equality” and “SDG-10: Reduced Inequality”.
- The framework of puruṣārthas showcases the miseries coming in the absence of wealth.
- Among all kinds of wealth, knowledge is considered supreme.

Reflections on puruṣārthas for sustainable development

धृतिः क्षमा दमोऽस्तेयं शौचं इन्द्रियनिग्रहः । धीर्विद्या सत्यं अक्रोधो दशकं धर्मलक्षणम् । dhṛtiḥ kṣamā damo'steyaṃ śaucamindriyanigrahaḥ.

dhīrvidyā satyamakrodho daśakaṃ dharmalakṣaṇam.

(Manusmṛti, 6.92)

Dhṛti (patience/perseverance), kṣamā (forgiveness), dama (mastery over senses), asteya (non-stealing), śauca (outer and inner purity), indriyanigraha (control of the senses), dhī (understanding), vidyā (knowledge of the soul), satya (truthfulness), and akrodha (absence of anger) are the ten characteristics of dharma.

Reflections on puruṣārthas for sustainable development

There lies a cause-effect relationship between dharma and ācāra (good conduct), which ultimately leads to inner development and happiness:

आचारप्रभवो धर्मो नृणां श्रेयस्करो महान्।
इहलोके परा कीर्तिः परत्र परमं सुखम्॥

ācāraprabhavo dharmo nṛṇāṃ śreyaskaro mahān.
ihaloke parā kīrtiḥ paratra paramaṃ sukham.

Dharma is born of good conduct, which brings the highest welfare to human beings; by observing it, one gets great fame here and supreme happiness in the world yet to come.

Self development leads to prosperity

Major Faults of a Definition

1. avyāpti (non-pervasion): if the definition is too narrow, so that a part of definiendum is not pervaded by that which is expressed by the definition.

Ex. A four legged animal of white colour is called a cow

2. ativyāpti (over-pervasion): that which is expressed by the definition is too wide to include more than what should be included.

Ex. An animal having four legs is cow

3. asambhava (impossibility/absolute inapplicability): if that which is express by the definition does not coincide at all with the definition.

Ex. An animal having single hoof is cow

6. Vairāgya (absolute dispassion)

Four Knowledge Types

Significance of knowledge

According to ancient Indian literature including nitishastras, a human being without knowledge is like an animal:

आहारनिद्राभयमैथुनानि समानि चैतानि नृणां पशूनाम् ।
ज्ञाने नराणामधिको विशेषो ज्ञानेन हीनाः पशुभिः समानाः ॥

(ChanakyaNiti, 17.17)

āhāranidrābhayamaithunāni samāni caitāni nṛṇāṃ paśūnām |
jñāne narāṇāmadhiko viśeṣo jñānena hīnāḥ paśubhiḥ samānāḥ ||

भोजन, निद्रा, भय, मैथुन ये मनुष्य और पशुओं के समान हीं हैं, मनुष्यों और पशुओं में केवल ज्ञान का फर्क है। ज्ञान से रहित मनुष्य पशु के समान है।

Men have eating, sleeping, fearing and mating in common with the lower animals. That in which men excel the beasts is discretionary knowledge; hence, indiscreet men who are without knowledge should be regarded as beasts.

Therefore, it is important for a human being to acquire knowledge.

Knowledge Types

The Knowledge that leads human beings to happiness is classified into four types:

1. ānvīkṣikī (Philosophy)
2. trayī (Theology),
3. vārttā (Economics),
4. daṇḍanīti (Political Science)

आन्वीक्षिकी त्रयी वार्ता दण्डनीतिश्च शाश्वती ।

विद्याश्चतस्र एवैता अभ्यसेन्नृपतिः सदा ॥ (Shukraniti, 1.152) ānvīkṣikī trayī vārtā daṇḍanītiśca śāśvatī ।

vidyāścatasra evaitā abhyasennrpatiḥ sadā ॥

आन्वीक्षिकी, त्रयी , वार्ता और दण्डनीति ये चार विद्यायें सनातन हैं। राजा को इनका सदा अभ्यास करना चाहिये ।

Anviksiki (Logic), the Trayi (3 Vedas), Vārttā (Economics) and Dandaniti—these four branches of learning the king should always study.

Knowledge Types

आन्वीक्षिकी त्रयी वार्ता दण्डनीतिश्च शाश्वती ।
विद्याश्च तत्र एवैता योगक्षेमाय देहिनाम् ॥

(Kamandakiya-Nitisara, 2.2)

ānvīkṣikī trayī vārttā daṇḍanītiśca śāśvatī |
vidyāśca tatra evaitā yogakṣemāya dehinām ||

आन्वीक्षिकी (तर्कशास्त्र) त्रयी (वेदत्रयकी विद्या) वार्ता और सनातन की दण्डनीति यह चारों विद्या देहधारियों के योगक्षेम के निमित्त होती हैं।

Anvikshikee, Trayee, Vārttā and Dandaniti, these and these only are the four eternal divisions of knowledge that pave the way of corporeal beings to happiness.

Knowledge Types

आन्वीक्षिकीं त्रयीं वार्तां दण्डनीतिश्च पार्थिवः ।
तद्विद्यैस्तत्क्रियोपेतैश्चिन्तयेद्विनयान्वितः ॥

(Kamandakiya-Nitisara, 2.1)

ānvīkṣikīm trayīm vārttā daṇḍanītiśca pāṛthivah |
tadvidyaistatkrīyopetaiścintayedvinayānvitah ||

आन्वीक्षिकी (तर्क), त्रयीविद्या, वार्ता और दण्डनीति ये चार विद्याएँ हैं। राजा विनम्रता पूर्वक इन विद्याओं के जानकार और तदनुसार क्रिया करने वाले विद्वानों के साथ चिन्तन किया करे।

A King after having controlled his senses, should direct his attention to (the cultivation of) the following four branches of learning, namely Anvikshikee, Trayee, Vārttā and Dandaniti, in cooperation with men versed in them and acting according to their precepts.

Knowledge Types

Some scholars classify the knowledge into three types: ānvīkṣikī, trayī, and vārtā. According to them daṇḍanīti is a sub-type of trayī; some accept the existence of two divisions only, namely, Vārttā, and Dandaniti; Kamandakiya-Nitisara, 2.3-6:

त्रयी वार्ता दण्डनीतिरिति विद्या हि मानवाः ।
त्रय्या एव विभागोऽयं यमान्वीक्षिकी मता ॥

trayī vārttā daṇḍanītiriti vidyā hi mānavāḥ |
tryyā eva vibhāgo'yaṁ yamānvīkṣikī matā ||

त्रयी, वार्ता, दण्डनीति ये मनु के अनुसार तीन विद्याएँ हैं और त्रयी विद्या का एक विभाग ही आन्वीक्षिकी विद्या कहलाती है।

The descendants of Manu (men) hold that there are only three divisions of learning (namely), Trayee, Vārttā, and Dandaniti; in their opinion, what is known as Anvikshikee, is to be regarded as a mere sub-division of Trayee.

Knowledge Types

वार्ता च दण्डनीतिश्च द्वे विद्ये इत्यवस्थितं । लोकस्यार्थप्रधानत्वाच्छिष्याः सुरपुरोधसः ॥

vārttā ca daṇḍanītiśca dve vidye ityavasthitam |
lokasyārthapradhānatvācchiṣyāḥ surapurodhasaḥ ||

वार्ता और दण्डनीति यह जो दो विद्या है यह लोक के प्रधान अर्थ की साधक बृहस्पति के शिष्यों द्वारा प्रचार की गई है।

The disciples of the celestial priest (brihaspati) postulate the existence of two divisions only, namely, Vārttā, and Dandaniti, as these only can help people in the acquisition of Artha.

Knowledge Types

एकैव दण्डनीतिस्तु विद्येत्योशनसी स्थितिः । तस्यान्तु सर्वविद्यानामारम्भाः समुदाहृताः ॥

ekaiva daṇḍanītistu vidyetyośanasī sthitiḥ |
tasyāntu sarvavidyānāmārambhāḥ samudāhṛtāḥ ||

और यह दण्डनीति उशनस् अर्थात् शुक्राचार्य की विद्या है, इसमें सब-विद्याओं का आरम्भ कहा गया है।

According to the school of Usanas there is only one division of learning, namely, Dandaniti; and it has been said, that the origin of all other kinds of learning lies in this one.

Knowledge Types

विद्याश्चतस्र एवैता इति नो गुरुदर्शनम् ।
पृथक्पृथक्प्रसिद्धयर्थं यासु लोको व्यवस्थितः ॥

(Kamandakiya-Nitisara, 2.3)

vidyāścatasra eveaitā iti no gurudarśanam |
pr̥thakpr̥thakprasiddhayartham yāsu loko vyavasthitaḥ ||

यही चार विद्या है, इस प्रकार हमको 'गुरु का उपदेश है पृथक् - निमित्त जिनमें लोक प्रतिष्ठित हो रहे हैं।

But the theory of our own preceptor is, that there are four kinds of learning, on which this world is settled, for the realisation of different objects.

Knowledge Types

Out of these four vidyās ānvīkṣikī, trayī and vārttā are called “satī vidyā” most excellent of all knowledge. But in the absence of daṇḍanīti their presence is of no use. As it is only when a great leader attains proficiency in daṇḍanīti, he becomes the master of the other branches of knowledge.

आन्वीक्षिकी त्रयी वार्ता सती विद्या प्रचक्ष्यते ।
सत्योऽपि हि न सत्यस्ता दण्डनीतेस्तु विभ्रमे ॥

(Kamandakiya-Nitisara, 2.8)

ānvīkṣikī trayī vārttā satī vidyā pracakṣyate |
satyo’pi hi na satyastā daṇḍanītestu vibhrame ||

आन्वीक्षिकी त्रयी और वार्ता यह सती विद्या कहलाती है सत्य ही यदि दण्डनीति का सम्यक् प्रभाव न हो तो यह सती विद्या असती के समान कहलाती है । ānvīkṣikī, trayī and vārttā are considered to be the most excellent of all knowledge. But their presence is of no avail where daṇḍanīti is neglected.

Knowledge Types

दण्डनीतिर्यदा सम्यङ्नेतारमधितिष्ठति ।
तदा विद्याविदः शेषा विद्याः सम्यगुपासते ॥

(Kamandakiya-Nitisara, 2.9)

daṇḍanītiryaḍā samyaṅnetāramadhitiṣṭhati |
tadā vidyāvidaḥ śeṣā vidyāḥ samyagupāsate ||

जब दण्डनीति भली प्रकार से नेता में स्थित होती है तब विद्या का जानने वाला सम्पूर्ण शेष विद्याओं को प्राप्त होता है ।

When a great leader of men attains proficiency in daṇḍanīti, he becomes the master of the other remaining branches of knowledge.

ānvīkṣikī (Philosophy)

The subject matter of ānvīkṣikī vidyā is “tarkaśāstraṃ” the science of discussion and “ātma-vijñāna” the knowledge of the ātman/self as mentioned in Śukranīti 1.153 and Kamandakiya-Nitisara 2.7.

आन्वीक्षिक्यात्मविज्ञानं धर्माधर्मौ त्रयीस्थितौ ।
अर्थानर्थौ तु वार्तायां दण्डनीतौ नयानयौ ॥

(Kamandakiya-Nitisara, 2.7)

ānvīkṣikyātmavijñānaṃ dharmādharmau trayīsthithau |
arthānarthau tu vārttāyāṃ daṇḍanītau nayānayaau ||

आन्वीक्षिकी आत्मा का विज्ञान होता है और त्रयीविद्या में धर्म, अधर्म की व्यवस्था वार्ता अर्थ, अनर्थ का ज्ञान, दण्डनीति में नीति अनिति स्थित है।

ānvīkṣikī deals with the knowledge of the self, Trayee with piety and impiety, Vārttā with gain and loss of wealth, and Dandaniti with justice and injustice.

ānvīkṣikī (Philosophy)

The knowledge of ānvīkṣikī helps the learner to rise above the pleasure and pain.

आन्वीक्षिक्यात्मविज्ञानाद्धर्षशोकौ व्युदस्यति ।

(Śukranīti, 1.158)

ānvīkṣikyātmavijñānāddharṣaśokau vyudasyati

आन्वीक्षिकी विद्या के अनुसार यथाविधि कार्य करता हुआ राजा इहलोक तथा परलोक दोनों में सुख प्राप्त करता है ।

Man gives up both pleasure and pain through Anviksiki.

trayī (Theology)

According to Śukranīti 1.153 and Kamandakiya-Nitisara 2.7, the subject matter of trayī vidyā is dharma (virtue) and adharma (vice), as well as kāma (interests) and akāma (injuries) of man.

उभौ लोकाववाप्नोति त्रय्यां तिष्ठन्यथाविधि

(Śukranīti, 1.158)

ubhau lokāvavāpnoti trayyāṃ tiṣṭanyathāvidhi

त्रयी विद्या के अनुसार यथाविधि कार्य करता हुआ राजा इहलोक तथा परलोक दोनों में सुख प्राप्त करता है ।

One gets both temporal and spiritual self-realization through the Trayī.

trayī (Theology)

The trayī vidyā consists of ancient Indian texts like the six vedāṅgas, four vedas, mimāṃsā (for critical investigation of vedic texts and Investigation on the nature of ātman, consciousness), nyāya (science of reasoning, logic, analytic philosophy), the dharmaśāstras and purāṇas Śukranīti, 1.155):

अंगानि वेदाश्चत्वारो मीमांसा न्यायविस्तरः ।
धर्मशास्त्रपुराणानि त्रयीदं सर्वमुच्यते ॥ (Śukranīti, aṅgāni vedāścatvāro mīmāṃsā nyāyavistarahaḥ ।
1.155)

dharmaśāstrapurāṇāni trayīdaṁ sarvamucyate ॥

शिक्षा, कल्प, व्याकरण, निरुक्त, ज्योतिष, छन्द ये छह वेदाङ्ग, ऋग्वेद, यजुर्वेद, सामवेद, अथर्ववेद ये चार वेद, मीमांसा, न्याय शास्त्र का विस्तार, धर्मशास्त्र, पुराण इन सबको 'त्रयी' कहते हैं।

The six Angas, the four Vedas, Mimamsa, Nyaya, dharma Sastras as well as the Puranas all these constitute the Trayi vidya.

trayī (Theology)

ऋग्यजुःसामनामानस्त्रयो वेदास्त्रयी स्मृता ।
उभौ लोकाववाप्नोति त्रय्यां तिष्ठन् यथाविधि ॥

(Kamandakiya-Nitisara, 2.12)

ṛgyajuḥsāmanāmānastrayo vedāstrayī smṛtā |
ubhau lokāvavāpnoti trayyāṃ tiṣṭhan yathāvidhi ||

ऋग्यजुः साम इन तीन वेदों के प्रतिपादित कर्म उपासना आदि त्रयीविद्या कहा हैं, इस त्रयीविद्या में यथाविधि स्थित होने से दोनों लोकों को प्राप्त होता है ।

The three Vedast called Rik, Yajus and Sāma are meant by Trayee. A person, living in perfect obedience to the injunctions and interdictions of Trayee, prospers in this as well as in the next world.

trayī (Theology)

अङ्गानि वेदाश्चत्वारो मीमांसा न्यायविस्तरः ।
धर्मशास्त्रं पुराणञ्च त्रयीदं सर्वमुच्यते ॥

(Kamandakiya-Nitisara, 2.13)

agāni vedāścatvāro mīmāṃsā nyāyavistarahaḥ |
dharmaśāstraṃ purāṇaṅca trayīdaṃ sarvamucyate ||

चार वेद, शिक्षा कल्प, व्याकरण, निरुक्तं, छन्द, ज्योतिष यह छः अंग, मीमांसा, और न्यायविस्तार, धर्मशास्त्र और पुराण यह सब त्रयी विद्यां कही है ।

The Angas, the four Vedas, the Mīmāṃsās, the diverse sections of Nyaya, the Dharmashastras and the Purāṇas are all included under Trayee.

vārtā (Economics)

The economic well-being is taken care of through vārttā. According to Śukranīti 1.154 and Kamandakiya-Nitisara 2.7 “arthānarthau tu vārttāyām”, the subject matter of vārttā is gain and loss of wealth. It includes interest, agriculture, commerce and preservation of cows. The man who is good at vartta does not fear for earnings (Śukranīti, 1.156):

कुसीदकृषिवाणिज्यं गोरक्षा वार्तयोच्यते ।
संपन्नो वार्तया साधुर्न वृत्तेर्भयमृच्छति ॥

(Śukranīti, 1.156)

kusīdakṛṣivāṇijyaṃ gorakṣā vārtayocyate ।
saṃpanno vārtayā sādurna vṛtterbhayaṃṛcchati ॥

कुसीद (सूद लेना), कृषि (खेती), वाणिज्य (व्यापार), गोपालन, इनको वार्ता कहते हैं। इस वार्ता शास्त्र का भली-भांति ज्ञान रखने वाला राजा जीविका-सम्बन्धी भय को नहीं प्राप्त करता है।

In Vārttā are treated interest, agriculture, commerce and preservation of cows. The man who is well up in Vārttā need not be anxious for earnings.

vārtā (Economics)

पाशुपाल्यं कृषिः पण्यं वार्ता वार्तानुजीविनाम्
सम्पन्नो वार्तया साधुर्नवृत्तेर्भयमृच्छति ॥

(Kamandakiya-Nitisara, 2.14)

pāśupālyam kṛṣiḥ paṇyam vārtā vārttānujīvinām sampanna vārttayā sādurna vṛtterbhayamṛcchati ॥

पशुपालन, कृषि (खेती) करना, बेचना, खरीदना, यह वार्ता है। वार्ता से जो अनुजीवन करता है वह वार्ता सम्पन्न हुआ महात्मा की तरह वृत्ति भय को प्राप्त नहीं होता ।

The occupation of those who live by rearing cattle, and by cultivation and trade is called Vārttā. Well-up in Vārttā a man has nothing to be afraid of in a revolution.

vārtā (Economics)

Through these means of wealth, Vārttā focuses on continuous sources of income as accumulated wealth can never be sufficient for any amount of expenditure, not even the vast amount of accumulated wealth is sufficient for Kubera.

न यथैष्टव्ययायालं संचिते नु धनं भवेत् ।
सदागमाद्विना कस्य कुबेरस्यापि नाञ्जसा ॥

(Śukranīti, 1.181)

na yatheṣṭavyayāyālaṃ saṃcite nu dhanam bhavet ।
sadāgamādvinaṁ kasya kuberasyāpi nāñjasā ।

चाहे वह कुबेर ही क्यों न हो किसी का भी संचित धन नित्य धनागम के बिना इच्छानुसार व्यय करने के लिये योग्य नहीं होता है अर्थात् एक दिन समाप्त हो जाता है ।

Accumulated wealth can never be sufficient for any amount of expenditure, Truly, without perpetual incomes nobody's, not even Kubera's, (is sufficient).

vārtā (Economics)

The accumulated wealth is protected and keeps growing when it is invested like the flowing water never gets stagnant as new fresh water keeps replenishing it:

उपार्जितानां वित्तानां त्यागेनैव हि रक्षणम् ।
तडागोदर संस्थानां परिशव इवाम्भसाम् ॥

(ChanakyaNiti, 7.14)

upārjitānām vittānām tyāgenaiva hi rakṣaṇam |
taḍāgodara saṁsthānām pariśava ivāmbhasām ||

संचित धन खर्च करने से बढ़ता है। उसी प्रकार जैसे ताजा जल जो अभी आया है बचता है, यदि पुराने स्थिर जल को निकल बहार किया जाये।

Accumulated wealth is saved by spending just as incoming fresh water is saved by letting out stagnant water.

vārtā (Economics)

The ṛṣis not only emphasize the importance of wealth (ChanakyaNiti, 7.15), they also that it should be earned through ethical means; as not only the wealth accumulated through unethical means is lost it also after some it also original wealth earned through ethical means (ChanakyaNiti, 15.6):

यस्यार्स्थास्तस्य मित्राणि यस्यार्स्थास्तस्य बान्धवाः ।

यस्यार्थाः स पुमाल्लोके यस्यार्थाः स च जीवति ॥

(ChanakyaNiti, 7.15)

yasyārsthāstasya mitrāṇi yasyārsthāstasya bāndhavāḥ |

yasyārthāḥ sa pumālloke yasyārthāḥ sa ca jīvati ||

वह व्यक्ति जिसके पास धन है उसके पास मित्र और सम्बन्धी भी बहुत रहते हैं दुनिया में टिक पाता है उसी को इज्जत मिलती है।

He who has wealth has friends and relations; he alone survives and is respected as a man.

vārtā (Economics)

अन्यायोपार्जितं वित्तं दशवर्षाणि तिष्ठति।
प्राप्ते चैकादशे वर्षे समूलं तद् विनश्यति॥

(ChanakyaNiti, 15.6)

anyāyopārjitaṃ vittaṃ daśavarṣāṇi tiṣṭhati|
prāpte caikādaśe varṣe samūlaṃ tad vinaśyati||

आचार्य चाणक्य कहते हैं, लक्ष्मी वैसे ही चंचल होती है कभी किसी के पास कभी किसी के, लेकिन जुआ, बेईमानी और धोखे से कमाया गया धन केवल 10 साल तक रहता है ग्यारहवें साल वह स्वयं नष्ट हो जाता है और इसके साथ- साथ आपका पहला कमाया हुआ धन भी साथ में ही नष्ट हो जाता है।

Sinfully acquired wealth may remain for ten years; in the eleventh year it disappears with even the original stock.

vārtā (Economics)

Therefore the wise people make sure that they are always surrounded by some or the other means of earnings. According to Śukranīti, 3.276 such means are:

स देशः प्रवरो यत्र कुटुम्बपरिपोषणम् ।
कृषिस्तु चोत्तमा वृत्तिर्या सरिन्मातृका मता ॥

(Śukranīti, 3.276)

sa deśaḥ pravaro yatra kuṭumbaparipoṣaṇam ।
kṛṣistu cottamā vṛttir yā sarinmātrkā matā ॥

जिस देश में अपने कुटुम्ब का भलीभांति पोषण हो वही देश सबसे उत्तम है। नदी से सींची जानेवाली कृषि (खेती) उत्तम आजीविका है।

That country is good where the kith and kin are supported. Agriculture, which is said to have rivers for mothers, is a good occupation.

daṇḍanīti (Political Science)

According to Śukranīti 1.154 and Kamandakiya-Nitisara 2.7, the subject matter of daṇḍanīti vidyā is nayānaya knowledge of the justice and injustice or good and bad government. All the varṇas and āśramas are built upon these sciences (Śukranīti 1.154; Kamandakiya-Nitisara 2.10). The word daṇḍa basically refers to dama i.e. restraint and punishment. A king is also called daṇḍa as it is his duty to restrain and punish people. The word nīti means 'to govern and guide' Thus the word daṇḍanīti refers to the guidelines of restraint and punishment as mentioned in Śukranīti 1.157:

दमो दण्ड इतिख्यातस्तस्माद्दण्डो महीपतिः ।

तस्य नीतिर्दण्डनीतिर्नयनान्नीतिरुच्यते ॥ (Śukranīti,

1.157)

damodaṇḍa itikhyātaśmāddāṇḍo mahīpatiḥ

tasyanītirdaṇḍanītirnayanānnītirucyate ॥

दमको 'दण्ड' कहते हैं । इससे (दण्ड देने से) राजा दण्ड रूप है । उसकी नीति को दण्डनीति कहते हैं । नयन अर्थात् ले जाने से नीति कहते हैं । भावार्थ यह है कि--दण्ड नीति से राजनीति का ग्रहण किया है क्योंकि इसी से वह प्रजाओं को अपने २ धर्म की ओर ले जाता है ।

Danda is restraint and punishment, hence the king is also known to be Danda. The Niti that regulates punishment constitutes Dandaniti, so called because it governs and guides.

daṇḍanīti (Political Science)

उददेजयति तीक्ष्णेन मृदुना परिभूयते।
दण्डेन नृपतिस्तस्माद्युक्तदण्डः प्रशस्यते॥

(Kamandakiya-Nitisara, 2.37)

uddejayati tīkṣṇena mṛdunā paribhūyate |
daṇḍena nṛpatistasmādyuktadaṇḍaḥ praśasyate ||

तीक्ष्णदण्ड से प्रजा उत्तेजित (विरक्त) हो जाती है मृदु दण्ड से राजा ही का तिरस्कार होने लगता है, इस कारण से राजा युक्तदण्ड का विधान करे।

Inflicting extraordinarily heavy punishments a king frightens his subjects, and inflicting extraordinarily light ones he is not feared by them. Therefore that king is praise-worthy who deals out punishments proportionate to the offences.

त्रिवर्ग वर्धयत्यासु राज्ञो दण्डो यथाविधि ।
प्रणीतो वाऽऽसमञ्जस्याद्वनस्थानपि कोपयेत्

(Kamandakiya-Nitisara, 2.38)

trivarga vardhayatyāsu rājño daṇḍo yathāvidhi |
praṇīto vā”samañjasyādvanasthānapi kopayet ||

यथाविधि दण्डविधान करनेवाले राजा का त्रिवर्ग [धर्म, अर्थ, काम,] वृद्धि को प्राप्त होता है और जो अयुक्त शासन करता है तब देश के तो क्या वन के लोगों को भी कुपित करता है।

Punishments, dealt out proportionately to the offences, speedily increase the Trivarga of a king, while disproportionately inflicted, they excite anger even in those who have retired to the forest.

daṇḍanīti (Political Science)

लोकशास्त्रानुगमो नेयो दण्डो नोवेजनः श्रिये ।
उद्वेजनादधर्मस्तु तस्यादभंशो महीपतेः ॥ (Kamandakiya-Nitisara,
2.39)

लोकशास्त्र के अनुसार चलने वाला नीति में तत्पर राजा का उचित दण्ड विरक्तता का कारण नहीं किन्तु लक्ष्मी का कारण होता है, प्रजा के उद्वेजन से अधर्म होता और उससे राजा भ्रष्ट हो जाता है।

Punishments countenanced by society and the Shastras ought only to be inflicted on the offender. Persecution can never bring about prosperity, as it breeds sin through which a monarch meets with his fall.

परस्पराभिषतया जगतो भिन्नवर्त्मनः ।

दण्डाभावे परिध्वंसी मात्स्यो न्यायः प्रवर्तते ॥ (Kamandakiya-Nitisara,
2.40)

और जो परस्पर मांसभक्षण की अभिलाषा से भिन्नमार्ग में मे स्थित जगत को दण्ड के अभाव से नष्ट करना है उसका नाम मात्स्यन्याय है अर्थात् जैसे मच्छ के मांसभक्षण की अभिलाषा करते हैं ऐसा राजा प्रजा का वर्ताव, नष्टता-के लिये होता है ।

In this world, where beings are related to one another as food and consumer, when proper chastisements are withheld, the exertions of a king to keep his subjects under control become as futile as those of an angler trying to catch fish without the help of a rod.

daṇḍanīti (Political Science)

जगदेतन्निरालम्ब कामलोभादिभिर्बलात् ।
निमज्जमानं निरये राजा दण्डेन धार्यते ॥

(Kamandakiya-Nitisara, 2.41)

यह जगत काम और लोभ के द्वारा बलसे निरालम्ब नरक में डूबता है केवल दण्ड से राजा ही इसको धारण करता है।

A king, by the right infliction of punishments, upholds this stayless world, that is being forcibly drowned into the lake of sin by lust and cupidity and other such passions.

इदं प्रकृत्या विषयैवेशीकृतं परस्परं स्त्रीधनलोलुपं जगत्
सनातनेवर्त्मनि साधुसेविते प्रतिष्ठते दण्डभयोपपीडितम् ॥

(Kamandakiya-Nitisara, 2.42)

यह जगत् स्वभाव से ही विषयों के वशीभूत है परस्पर स्त्री और धन लोभित हो रहा है, तब साधु सेवित सनातन मार्ग में दण्ड के भय से पीडित हुआ ही स्थित होता है।

This world is by nature enslaved to the pleasures of the senses and is ardently longing to enjoy wealth and women. Agitated by the fear of punishments, it only keeps to the eternal ways of rectitude followed by the pious.

daṇḍanīti (Political Science)

नियतविषयवर्ती प्रायशो दण्डयोगात् जगति परवशेऽस्मिन् दुर्लभः साधुवृत्तः
|
कृशमथ विकलं वा व्याधितं वाऽधनं वा पतिमिव कुलनारी दण्डनीत्याऽभ्युपैति
||

(Kamandakiya-Nitisara, 2.43)

निरन्तर विषयों में वर्तने वाले इस परवश जगत् में साधुचरित्रवाला पुरुष दुर्लभ है ,दण्डयोग से ही स्थिति होती है । कृश, अंगहीन, व्याधित, निर्धन पति को कुलनारी दण्ड से ही प्राप्त होती है ऐसे ही प्रजा दण्डभय से नियम के वशीभूत रहती है ।

Upright conduct is scarce in this slavish world of ours; but as it is, men only attend to their prescribed duties through fear of punishments; even as a respectable woman serves her lean or poor or deformed or diseased husband through fear of the sanctions specified in the codes of morality.

Thus daṇḍanīti along with other types of vidyas is the instrumental in the protection of the world and ensure establishment of the three-fold objects: dharma, artha, and kama.

daṇḍanīti (Political Science)

उपकाराय लोकस्य त्रिवर्गस्थापनाय च ।
नवनीतं सरस्वत्या बुद्धिरेषा प्रभाविता ।

(mahabharata, shanti parva 76)

For the behoof of the world and for establishing the three-fold objects (dharma, artha, kama), this science of representing the very essence of speech has been composed.

Causes of Pain in Nītiśāstra

Types of Pain

दुःखत्रयाभिघाताज्जिज्ञासा तदपघातके हेतौ।

दृष्टे साऽपार्था चेन्नैकान्तात्यन्ततोऽभावात् ॥ (Sāṅkhyakārikā, 1.1)

तीन प्रकार के दुःखों (आध्यात्मिक, आधिभौतिक एवं आधिदैविक) द्वारा किए गए प्रहार के कारण उनके विनाश करने वाले कारण के सम्बन्ध में जिज्ञासा (अत्यन्त स्वाभाविक होती है)। (यदि कहा जाए कि) प्रत्यक्ष दिखाई देने वाले उपायों के होने से वह शास्त्रविषयक (उत्सुकता) व्यर्थ है तो (ऐसा कहना) दुःखों के अनिवार्य रूप से, हमेशा के लिए समाप्त न होने से (उचित) नहीं है।

From the injurious effects of the threefold kinds of pain (arises) a desire to know the means of removing it (pain). If, from the visible (means of removing it), this (desire) should seem to be superfluous, it is not so, for these are neither absolutely complete nor abiding.

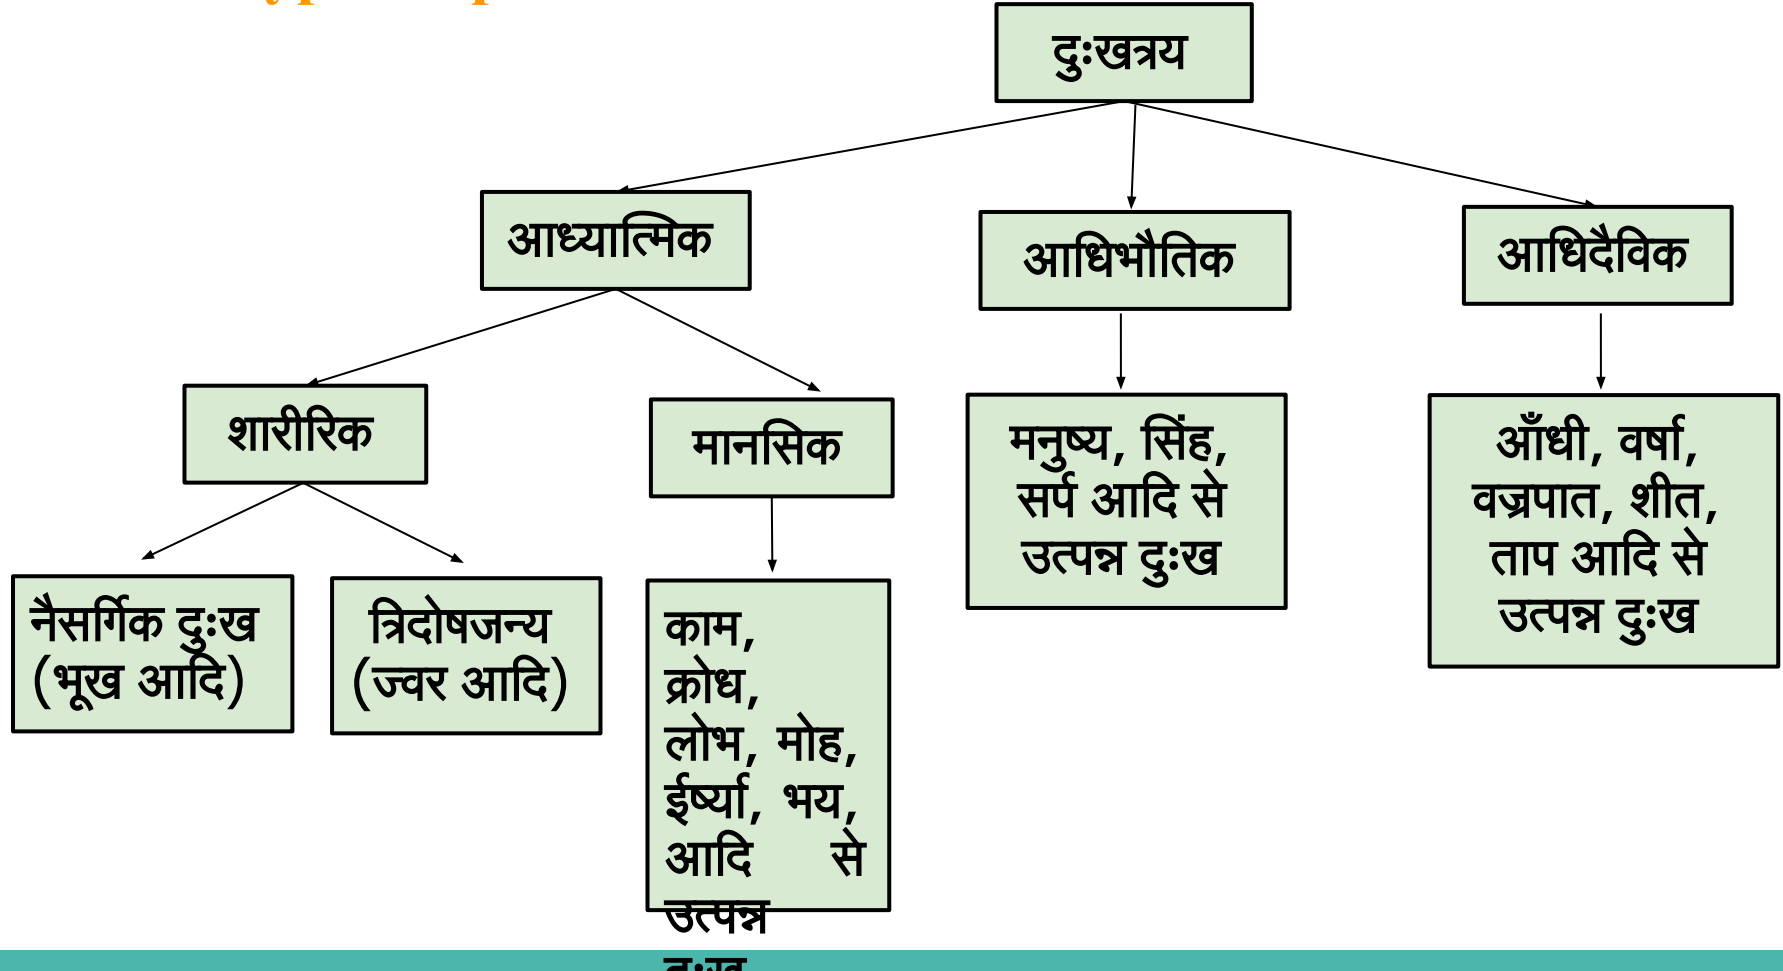

Contd....

The three kinds of pain are explained by the commentators to be-

1. The natural and intrinsic, both bodily and mental (ādhyaत्मika).
2. The natural and extrinsic (ādhibhautika).
3. The divine or supernatural (ādhidaivika).

The first distich gives the chief, if not the sole, purpose of Kapila's philosophy. It is to relieve mankind from the suffering of pain. It is founded on the gloomy view of human life which is generally accepted by Hindū writers. They assert an absolute pessimism. Our present life is not a blessing; it is only a wearisome burden, which is finally cast off when the soul has become free from all contact with matter. The soul then gains, according to Kapila, an absolute independence, a self- existence, which is not affected by any subsequent changes in the outer material world; or it is absorbed, according to the theistic system of Patanjali, into the essence of the One Supreme Being (Brahma).

हे निष्पाप ! उन तीनों गुणोंमें से निर्मल होनेके कारण प्रकाशक तथा दोषरहित शान्त सत्त्वगुण ज्ञान और सुखके सङ्ग द्वारा जीवको आबद्ध करता है।

Of these, sattwa which because of its stainlessness is luminous and healthy (unobstructive). It binds by (creating) attachment to happiness and attachment to knowledge O sinless one.

Cause of happiness

(Śrīmadbhagavadgītā, 18.37)

yattadagre viṣamiva pariṇāme'mṛtopamam |
tatsukhaṁ sāttvikaṁ proktamātmabuddhiprasādajam ||

जो कोई सुख पहले विषके समान, किन्तु परिणाममें अमृतके समान है और आत्म-विषयक बुद्धिकी निर्मलतासे उत्पन्न होता है, वह सुख सात्त्विक कहलाता है।

That which is like poison at first, but in the end like nectar, that pleasure is declared to be sattvic (pure) born of the purity of ones own mind due to Self realisation.

जहाँ योगेश्वर श्रीकृष्ण तथा धनुर्धर अर्जुन हैं, वहीं श्री (राज्यलक्ष्मी), विजय, ऐश्वर्यवृद्धि और न्यायपरायणता विद्यमान है - यही मेरा निश्चित मत है।

Wherever is Krishna, the Lord of Yoga, wherever is Paartha, the archer, there are prosperity, victory, happiness and firm (steady or sound) policy; this is my conviction.

Causes of Happiness in Nītiśāstra

जो सुख और शांति का अनुभव स्वरूप ज्ञान को प्राप्त करने से होता है, वैसा अनुभव जो लोभी लोग धन के लोभ में यहाँ वहाँ भटकते रहते हैं उन्हें नहीं होता।

The experience of happiness and peace that comes from attaining true knowledge is not experienced by greedy people who keep wandering here and there in greed for money.

Cause of happiness

(Cāṇakyanīti, 7.3)

santoṣāmṛtatṛptānāṃ yatsukhaṃ śāntireva ca|

सन्तोष रूप अमृत से जो लोग तृप्त होते हैं उनको जो शान्ति सुख होता है, यह धन के लोभ से जो इधर उधर दौड़ा करते हैं उनको नहीं होता ।

The happiness and peace attained by those satisfied by the nectar of spiritual tranquillity is not attained by greedy persons restlessly moving here and there.

Cause of happiness

संसारतापदग्धानां त्रयो विश्रान्तिहेतवः।

(Cāṇakyanīti, 4.10)

संसार के ताप से जलते हुए पुरुषों के विश्राम के हेतु तीन हैं सन्तान, स्त्री और सज्जनों की संगति।

When one is consumed by the sorrows of life, three things give him relife: offspring, a wife, and the company of the Lord's devotees.

Cause of happiness

(Cāṇakyanīti, 4.11)

dāridrayanāśanam dānam śīlam durgatināśanam|
ajñānanāśinī prajñā bhāvanā bhayanāśinī||

दान दारिद्र्यता का, सुशीलता दुर्गति का, बुद्धि अज्ञान का और भक्ति भय का नाश करती है।

Charity puts an end to poverty; righteous conduct to misery; discretion to ignorance; and scrutiny to fear.

Cause of happiness

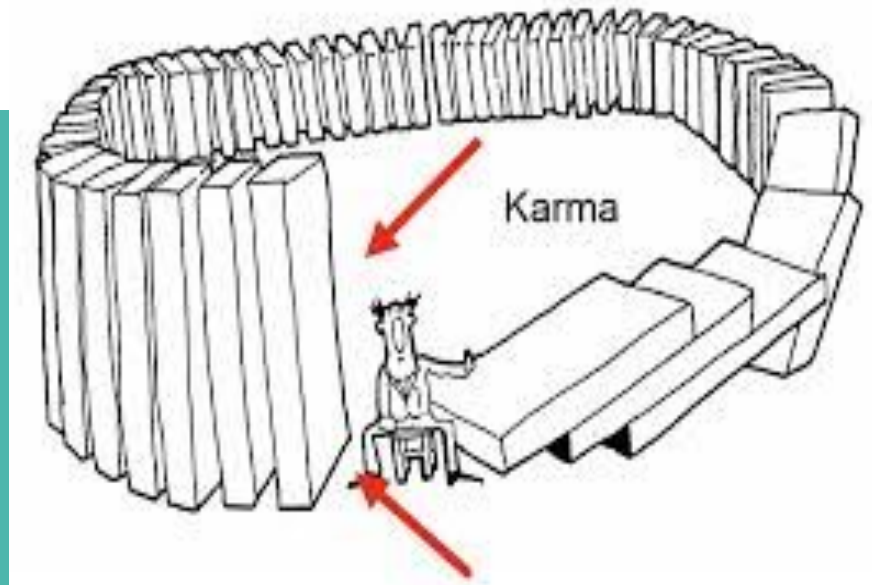

सन्तोषस्त्रिषु कर्तव्यः स्वदारे भोजने धने।
त्रिषु चैव न कर्तव्योऽध्ययने जपदानयोः॥ (Cāṇakyanīti, 7.4)

व्यक्ति नीचे दी हुए तीन चीजों से संतुष्ट रहे- १. खुद की पत्नी, २. भोजन, ३. उतना धन जितना ईमानदारी से मिल गया। लेकिन व्यक्ति को नीचे दी हुई तीन चीजों से संतुष्ट नहीं होना चाहिए- १. अध्ययन/अभ्यास, २. जप, ३. दान।

One should feel satisfied with the following three things, his own wife, food given by Providence and wealth acquired by honest effort, but one should never feel satisfied with the following three, study, chanting the holy names of the lord (japa) and charity.

Karma, Karmaphala and Bhagya

Principle of Karmaphala: Karma

न हि कश्चित्क्षणमपि जातु तिष्ठत्यकर्मकृत्।
कार्यते ह्यवशः कर्म सर्वः प्रकृतिजैर्गुणैः॥

(śrīmadbhagavadgītā, 3.5)

na hi kaścitkṣaṇamapi jātu tiṣṭhatyakarmakṛt|
kāryate hyavaśaḥ karma sarvaḥ prakṛtijairguṇaiḥ||

कोई भी पुरुष कभी क्षणमात्र भी बिना कर्म किए नहीं रह सकता क्योंकि प्रकृति से उत्पन्न गुणों के द्वारा अवश हुए सब (पुरुषों) से कर्म करवा लिया जाता है।

Verily none can ever remain for even a moment without performing action; for everyone is made to act helplessly indeed by the alities born of Nature.

Principle of Karmaphala: Karma

कुर्वन्नेवेह कर्माणि जिजीविषेत् शतं समाः।
एवं त्वयि नान्यथेतोऽस्ति न कर्म लिप्यते नरे ॥

(Īśāvāsyopaniṣad, 2)

kurvanneveha karmāṇi jijīviṣet śataṁ samāḥ |
evaṁ tvayi nānyatheto'sti na karma lipyate nare ||

इस लोक में कर्म करते हुए ही सौ वर्ष जीने की इच्छा करे। इस प्रकार मनुष्यत्व का अभिमान रखने वाले तेरे लिए इसके सिवाय और कोई मार्ग नहीं है, जिससे तुझे कर्म का लेप न हो।

Doing verily works in this world one should wish to live a hundred years. Thus it is in thee and not otherwise than this; action cleaves not to a man.

Principle of Karmaphala: Karma

किन्नु मे स्यादिदं कृत्वा किन्नु मे स्यादकुर्वतः॥
इति कर्माणि सञ्चिन्त्य कुर्याद्वा पुरुषो न वा ॥

(Viduraniti, 2.19)

kinnu me syādidam kṛtvā kinnu me syādakurvataḥ|| iti karmāṇi sañcintya kuryādvā puruṣo na vā ||

इस कार्य को करने से मुझे क्या लाभ होगा अथवा न करने से मेरी क्या हानि होगी, इस प्रकार कर्मों के विषय में भली-भाँति सोच-विचारकर मनुष्य कर्मों को करे अथवा न करे।

What shall I gain by doing this act and what shall I lose by not doing it, in this way a man after thinking deeply should or should not do the acts.

Principle of Karmaphala: Karma

अनुबन्धानवेक्षेत सानुबन्धेषु कर्मसु ।
सम्प्रधार्य च कुर्वीत न वेगेन समाचरेत् ॥

(Viduraniti, 2.8)

anubandhānavekṣeta sānubandheṣu karmasu |
sampradhārya ca kurvīta na vegena samācaret ||

किसी प्रयोजन से किये जाने वाले कार्यों में पहले प्रयोजन का विचार कर लेना चाहिए। अच्छी प्रकार सोच-विचारकर ही कोई कार्य आरम्भ करें, जल्दबाज़ी में, बिना सोचे-समझे कोई कार्य न करें।

Before engaging in an act, one should consider the competence of the agent, the nature of the act itself and its purpose, because all acts are dependent on these. Considering these, one should begin an act and should not take it upon a sudden impulse.

Principle of Karmaphala: Karma

अनुबन्धं च सम्प्रेक्ष्य विपाकैश्चैव कर्मणाम् ।
उत्थानमात्मनश्चैव धीरः कुर्वीत वा न वा ॥

(Viduraniti, 2.9)

anubandham ca samprekṣya vipākāṁścaiva karmaṇām |
utthānamātmanaścaiva dhīraḥ kurvīta vā na vā ||

धैर्यवान् मनुष्य को चाहिए कि पहले कर्मों के प्रयोजन और उनके परिणाम फल को भली-भाँति विचार ले, फिर अपना उद्योग करे अथवा न करे ।

He, who is firm and wise, should either do an act or desist from it fully considering his own ability, the nature of the act and also the consequences of the success.

Principle of Karmaphala: Karma

बुद्धिश्रेष्ठानि कर्माणि बाहुमध्यानि भारत ।
तानि जंघाजघन्यानि भारप्रत्यवराणि च ॥

(Viduraniti, 3.74)

buddhiśreṣṭhāni karmāṇi bāhumadhyāni bhārata|
tāni jaṁghājaghanyāni bhārapratyavarāni ca ||

हे भारत ! बुद्धि से सिद्ध होनेवाले कार्य उत्तम होते हैं, भुजबल से होनेवाले मध्यम, जो भाग-दौड़कर अथवा लुक-छिपकर कपट से किये जाते हैं वे अधम और जो सिर पर भार उठाकर किये जाते हैं अथवा जो करने वाले को संकट में डाल दें, वे नीचतर कार्य होते हैं।

O Bharata! The acts accomplished by intelligence are the best; those accomplished by arms are medium; those by thighs (by hustle and bustle) or which are done secretly by deception are worst, and those by bearing weight upon head or which lead a man to adversity are very worst.

Principle of Karmaphala: Karma

कर्मैव कारणं चात्र सुगतिं दुर्गतिं प्रति।
कर्मैव प्राक्तनमपि क्षणं किं कोऽस्ति चाक्रियः॥

(Śukranīti, 1.37)

karmaiva kāraṇaṃ cātra sugatiṃ durgatiṃ prati|
karmaiva prāktanamapi kṣaṇaṃ kiṃ ko'sti cākriyah||

इस संसार में सुगति और दुर्गति के प्रति कर्म ही कारण होता है। यह भी प्राक्तन होता है। अर्थात् पूर्व कर्म ही प्रारब्ध कर्म कहलाता है। क्या कोई जीव बिना कर्म किये क्षण भर भी रह सकता है अर्थात् नहीं रह सकता है।

Man's work is the cause of his good or bad luck (prosperity or adversity). Even that which is called predestined (i.e., comes from previous birth) is really man's own work. Who can ever be without work?

Principle of Karmaphala: Karma

Karma (कर्म)

1. Sakāma Karma (सकाम कर्म) : Karma done for worldly pleasures, in Kleśa Karma (क्लेश युक्त कर्म)
 - a. Good Deeds (पुण्य कर्म)
 - b. Bad Deeds (पाप कर्म)
2. Nişkāma Karma (निष्काम कर्म): Karma done with the goal of Mokṣa, Mukti, Realisation, Niḥśreyasa, etc.
 - a. This also includes those Karma which are ordinary/routine

Kleśa: Avidyā, Asmitā, Rāga, Dveṣa, Abhiniveśa

Principle of Karmaphala: Karmāśaya, Saṃskāra

Outcome of Karma

1. Karmāśaya (कर्माशय, संचित कर्म): due to Sakāma Karma, Kleśa Karma
 - a. Pāpa Karmāśaya: Will give rise to Duḥkha in future
 - b. Puṇya Karmāśaya: Will give rise to Sukha in future
2. Saṃskāra (संस्कार) - Positive and Negative
 - a. Positive Saṃskāra will give rise to positive tendencies in future
 - b. Negative Saṃskāra will give rise to negative tendencies in future

Principle of Karmaphala: Some Questions

Question:

- Who gives Karmaphala?
 - Īśvara, Judges, Government, Paṃcāyata, Guru, Parents/Elders in family?
- When?
- How?
- Is everything that we experience Karmaphala?

Principle of Karmaphala: Outcome

Outcome of Karma

1. Pariṇāma (परिणाम)- Result
Ex: You shoot a person, person dies
2. Prabhāva (प्रभाव)- Effect
Ex: Family of the person who dies face difficulty, etc
3. Phala (फल, क्रियमाण कर्म)- fruit
Ex: You are punished, imprisoned, etc.

Principle of Karmaphala

❖ Karmaphala (fruit):

ND Sūtra 1.1.20: प्रवृत्तिदोषजनितोऽर्थः फलम्

Phala is the consequence of our actions, thing that happens due to the existence of Pravṛtti and Doṣa. It refers to the experiences of pleasure and pain (bhoga) by the Ātmā, along with the causes leading to the experience of pleasure and pain.

Principle of Karmaphala: Forms

❖ Karmaphala (fruit):

YD Sūtra 2.13 सति मूले तद्विपाको जात्यायुर्भोगाः

As long as the afflictions/kleśas exist, the karmic residuum continues to frutify in three forms:

- 1) Jāti (जाति),
- 2) Āyu (आयु),
- 3) Bhoga (भोग).

Principle of Karmaphala: Forms

आयुः कर्म च वित्तं च विद्या निधनमेव च।
पञ्चैतानि हि सृज्यन्ते गर्भस्थस्यैव देहिनः॥

(ChanakyaNiti, 4.1)

āyuh karma ca vittaṃ ca vidyā nidhanameva ca|
pañcāitāni hi sṛjyante garbhasthasyaiva dehinah||

यह निश्चय है कि, आयु, कर्म, धन, विद्या और मरण ये पांचों जब जीव गर्भ ही में रहता है तब ही लिख दिये जाते हैं।

These five: the life-span, the type of work, wealth, learning and the time of one's death are determined while one is in the womb.

Principle of Karmaphala: Forms

आत्मापराधवृक्षस्य फलान्येतानि देहिनाम् ।
दारिद्र्यरोगदुःखानि बन्धनं व्यसनानिच ॥

(ChanakyaNiti, 14.2)

ātmāparādhavṛkṣasya phalānyetāni dehinām |
dāridryarogaduḥkhāni bandhanam vyasanānica ||

गरीबी, रोग, दुःख, बंधन और व्यसन ये सब व्यक्ति के अपने ही अपराधरूपी वृक्ष के फल हैं।

Poverty, disease, sorrow, imprisonment and other evils are the fruits borne by the tree of one's own sins.

Principle of Karmaphala: Forms

यथा धेनुसहस्रेषु वत्सो गच्छति मातरम् ।
तथा यच्च कृतं कर्म कर्तारमनुगच्छति ॥

(ChanakyaNiti, 13.15)

yathā dhenusahasreṣu vatso gacchati mātaram |
tathā yacca kṛtaṁ karma kartāramanugacchati ||

जिस प्रकार एक गाय का बछड़ा, हजारों गायों में अपनी माँ के पीछे चलता है
उसी तरह कर्म आदमी के पीछे चलते हैं।

As a calf follows its mother among a thousand cows, so the (good or bad) deeds of a man follow him.

Principle of Karmaphala: Forms

यथा धेनुसहस्रेषु वत्सो गच्छति मातरम् ।
तथा यच्च कृतं कर्म कर्तारमनुगच्छति ॥

(ChanakyaNiti, 13.15)

yathā dhenusahasreṣu vatso gacchati mātaram |
tathā yacca kṛtaṁ karma kartāramanugacchati ||

जिस प्रकार एक गाय का बछड़ा, हजारों गायों में अपनी माँ के पीछे चलता है
उसी तरह कर्म आदमी के पीछे चलते हैं।

As a calf follows its mother among a thousand cows, so the (good or bad) deeds of a man follow him.

Principle of Karmaphala

VD Sūtra 6.1.5: आत्मान्तरगुणानामात्मान्तरेऽकारणत्वात् ।

Guṇa (pāpa-Puṇya) of one soul are not (can not) be the cause of Guṇa (pāpa-Puṇya) of the other soul.

Pāpa-Puṇya and sukha-duḥkha of one ātmā do not get transferred to the other ātmā.

Hence, we do not lose our Puṇya karma by giving dāna. We do not lose anything. In fact, it adds to the list of our good deeds, resulting into phala sometime later in the form of Abhyudaya.

Principle of Karmaphala

When we enjoy the sukha, it reduces our Puṇya

If we take something from others (money, service-सेवा, appreciation-यश, etc), it reduces our Puṇya. So if someone is giving something for free, be mindful, it is actually not free in the context of karma-phala.

The person who is desirous of 'Niḥśreyasa', he will/should try to avoid unnecessary worldly pleasures.

Principle of Karmaphala: bhāgya, Fate

The words like bhāgya, vidhi, daiva, adr̥ṣṭa etc are Sanskrit equivalents for ‘fate’, ‘destiny’, ‘luck’, the certain consequence of acts/deeds done before including former birth(s).

रंकं करोति राजानं राजानं रंकमेव च।
धनिनं निर्धनं चैव निर्धनं धनिनं विधिः॥

(ChanakyaNiti, 10.5)

raṁkaṁ karoti rājānaṁ rājānaṁ raṁkameva ca|
dhaninaṁ nirdhanaṁ caiva nirdhanaṁ dhaninaṁ vidhiḥ||

निश्चय है कि विधि रंक को राजा, राजा को रंक, धनी को निर्धन, और निर्धन को धनी कर देती है।

Fate makes a beggar a king and a king a beggar. He makes a rich man poor and a poor man rich.

Principle of Karmaphala: bhāgya, Fate

पत्रं नैव यदा करीरविटपे दोषो वसन्तस्य किं
नोलूकोऽप्यवलोकते यदि दिवा सूर्यस्य किं दूषणम्
वर्षा नैव पतेतु चातकमुखे मेघस्य किं दूषणं
यत्पूर्वं विधिना ललाटलिखितं तन्मार्जितुं कः क्षमः॥

(ChanakyaNiti, 12.6)

patraṃ naiva yadā karīravīṭape doṣo vasantasya kiṃ nolūko'pyavalokate yadi divā sūryasya kiṃ dūṣaṇam varṣā naiva patettu cātakamukhe meghasya kiṃ dūṣaṇam
Yatpūrvam vidhinā lalāṭalikhitam tanmārjitum kaḥ kṣamah|

यदि करील के वृक्ष में पत्ते नहीं होते तो वसंत का क्या अपराध है? यदि उलूक दिन में नहीं देखता तो सूर्य का क्या दोष है? वर्षा चातक के मुख में नहीं पड़ती इसमें मेघ का क्या अपराध है? पहिले ही ब्रह्मा ने जो ललाट में लिख रखा है उसे मिटाने को कौन समर्थ है।

What fault of spring that the bamboo shoot has no leaves? What fault of the sun if the owl cannot see during the daytime? Is it the fault of the clouds if no raindrops fall into the mouth of the chatak bird? Who can erase what Lord Brahma has inscribed upon our foreheads at the time of birth?

Principle of Karmaphala: bhāgya, Fate

न निर्मितो न चैव न दृष्टपूर्वो न श्रूयते हेममयः कुरंगः ।
तथाऽपि तृष्णा रघुनन्दनस्य विनाशकाले विपरीतबुद्धिः ॥

(ChanakyaNiti, 16.5)

na nirmito na caiva na dṛṣṭapūrvo na śrūyate hemamayah kuramgaḥ |
tathā'pi tṛṣṇā raghunandanasya vināśakāle viparītabuddhiḥ ||

स्वर्ण मृग न तो किसी ने बनाया था, न पहले कभी देखा गया था, न कभी सुना गया था, तब श्री राम की उसे पाने (मारीच का मायावी रूप कंचन मृग) की इच्छा हुई, अर्थात् सीता के कहने पर वे उसे पाने के लिए दौड़ पड़े। किसी ने ठीक ही कहा है -- जब विनाश काल आता है, तब बुद्धि नष्ट हो जाती है।

The golden deer was neither created nor seen or heard before, when Shri Ram desired to get it (Kanchan Mrig, the elusive form of Maricha), that is, Sita. At his behest, they ran to get him. Someone has rightly said - When the time of destruction comes, then the intellect perishes.

Varṇa System वर्ण व्यवस्था

Varṇa System (वर्ण व्यवस्था)

Varṇa is derived from the root Vṛ (to choose)

Varṇa = 'one to be chosen' or 'worthy of selection' or 'that which is selected and accepted with due regard to one's qualities and actions'

- ❖ Brāhmaṇa: one who is endowed with Brahma and possesses noble qualities, high learning and devotion to propagating good merits
- ❖ Kṣatriya: one who is highly glorious, provides clean and virtuous administration, ready to fight and to destroy enemies and devoted to protection of the subjects
- ❖ Vaiśya: One who benefits humanity, strives to increase the wealth through trade and commerce
- ❖ Śūdra: who provides service to others he is dependent on

Varṇa System (वर्ण व्यवस्था)

न जात्या ब्राह्मणश्चात्र क्षत्रियो वैश्य एव न।
न शूद्रो न च वै म्लेच्छो भेदिता गुण-कर्मभिः॥

(Śukranīti, 1.38)

na jātyā brāhmaṇaścātra kṣatriyo vaiśya eva na|
na śūdro na ca vai mleccho bheditā guṇa-karmabhiḥ||

इस संसार में जन्म से कोई ब्राह्मण, क्षत्रिय, वैश्य, शूद्र या म्लेच्छ नहीं होता है, वस्तुतः गुण तथा कर्म के भेद से ही होता है।

Not by birth are the Brāhmaṇa, Kṣatriya, Vaiśya, Śūdra, and Mleccha separated, but by virtues and works.

Varṇa System (वर्ण व्यवस्था)

इज्याध्ययनदानानि यथाशास्त्रं सनातनः ।
ब्राह्मणक्षत्रिय विशां सामान्यो धर्म उच्यते ॥

(Kāmaṇḍakīya nītisāra, 2.18)

ijyādhyayanadānāni yathāśāstraṃ sanātanaḥ |

brāhmaṇakṣatriya viśāṃ sāmānyo dharma ucyate ||

यज्ञ करना, वेदपाठ करना, दानदेना, यह ब्राह्मण क्षत्रिय वैश्यो का शास्त्रविहित सनातन सामान्य धर्म है ।

The celebration of sacrifices, the study of the Vedas and the act of giving wealth to others according to the rules of the Shastras--these are considered to be the common customary observances of the three sects, the Brahmanas, the Kshatriyas and the Vaisyas.

Varṇa System (वर्ण व्यवस्था)

बलं विद्या च विप्राणां राज्ञां सैन्यं बलं तथा ।
बलं वित्तं च वैश्यानां शूद्राणां च कनिष्ठिका ॥

(Cāṇakyanīti, 2.16)

balam vidyā ca viprāṇām rājñām sainyaṃ balaṃ tathā |
balam vittaṃ ca vaiśyānām śūdrāṇām ca kaniṣṭhikā ||

ब्राह्मणों के घर विद्या है वैसे ही राजा का बल सेना, वैश्याओं का बल धन और शूद्रों का बल सेवा।

A brahmin's strength is in his learning, a king's strength is in his army, a vaishya's strength is in his wealth and a shudra's strength is in his attitude of service.

Varṇa System (वर्ण व्यवस्था)

शस्त्रेण जीवनं राज्ञो भूतानाञ्चाभिरक्षणम् ।
पाशुपाल्यं कृषिः पण्यं वैश्यस्याजीवनं स्मृतम् ॥

(kāmaṁdakīya nītisāra, 2.20)

śastreṇa jīvanam rājño bhūtānāñcābhirakṣaṇam |
pāśupālyam kṛṣiḥ paṇyam vaiśyasyājīvanam smṛtam ||

क्षत्रिय को शस्त्र धारण द्वारा जीवन, प्राणियों की रक्षा करना यही वृत्ति निर्देश की है, पशुपालन कृषि और व्यापार से वैश्य की जीविका कहीं है ॥

A king should live by his weapons and by protecting his subjects. The means of subsistence of a Vaisya are cattle-rearing, cultivation and trade.

Varṇa System (वर्ण व्यवस्था)

शूद्रो ब्राह्मणतामेति ब्राह्मणश्चैति शूद्रताम् ।
क्षत्रियाज् जातमेवं तु विद्याद् वैश्यात् तथैव च ॥

(Manusmriti, 10.65)

śūdro brāhmaṇatāmeti brāhmaṇaścaiti śūdratām |
kṣatriyāj jātamevaṃ tu vidyād vaiśyāt tathaiva ca ||

The Śūdra attains the position of the Brāhmaṇa and the Brāhmaṇa sinks to the position of the Śūdra; the same should be understood to be the case with the offspring of the Kṣatriya or of the vaiśya.

Varṇa System (वर्ण व्यवस्था)

अद्भ्योऽग्निर्ब्रह्मतः क्षत्रमश्मनो लोहमुत्थितम्
तेषां सर्वत्रगं तेजः स्वास योनिष शाम्यति ॥

(Viduranīti, 6.3)

जलों से अग्नि, ब्राह्मण से क्षत्रिय और पाषाण से लोहे आदि धातुओं की उत्पत्ति होती है । इनका सर्वत्र फैला हुआ तेज अपने मूलकारणों में शान्त हो जाता है, जैसे अग्नि जल से शान्त हो जाती है, क्षत्रिय ब्रह्मतेज के समक्ष निस्तेज हो जाता है और लोहा आदि धातुएँ पत्थर पर मारने से कुण्ठित हो जाती हैं ।

Fire has its origin in water, Kshatriyas in Brahmanās and iron in stone. The energy of these can affect all things but is neutralised as soon as these things come in contact with their progenitors. Just as fire is extinguished with water, the Kshatriya is out of countenance before a Brahmana and metals like iron etc. become blunt by striking against stone.

Varṇa System (वर्ण व्यवस्था)

उद्यतेषुमथो दृष्ट्वा ब्राह्मणं क्षत्रबन्धुवत् ।
यो हन्यात् समरे क्रुद्धं युध्यन्तमपलायितम् ।
ब्रह्महत्या न तस्य स्यादिति धर्मेषु निश्चयः ॥

(Śukranīti, 4.7.324)

लड़ाई के मैदान में क्षत्रियों की तरह डटकर मुकाबला करते हुए हथियार उठाये अत्यन्त कुपित ब्राह्मण की जो हत्या कर देता है, उसे ब्रह्महत्या का पाप नहीं लगता; यह धर्म- शास्त्र का सिद्धान्त है ।

The sin of killing a Brahman does not touch the man who treats like a Kshatriya and kills the Brahman that fights with arm in hand and does not leave the battle-field.

Varṇa System (वर्ण व्यवस्था)

चतुर्भिः क्षत्रियं हन्यात् पञ्चभिः क्षत्रियाधमम् ।
षड्भिर्वैश्यं सप्तभिस्तु शूद्रं सङ्करमष्टभिः ।
शत्रुष्वेतानि युञ्जीत न मित्रेषु कदाचन ॥

(Śukranīti, 4.7.388)

उक्त आठ प्रकार के बाहुयुद्धों के प्रहारों में से चार से क्षत्रियों को, पाच से नीच क्षत्रियों को, छः से वैश्यों को, सात से शूद्रों को और आठ से संकीर्ण जाति वाले को मारे। इन प्रहारों का प्रयोग दुश्मनों के लिए करे, मित्रों के लिए कदापि नहीं।

The Ksatriya should be attacked by four of these species, the worst Kshatriya by five, the Vaisya by six, the Sûdra by seven, and the mixed castes by all the eight. These methods have to be applied to the enemies, never to the friends.

Varṇa System (वर्ण व्यवस्था): Brāhmaṇa

Brāhmaṇa: one who is endowed with Brahma and possesses noble qualities, high learning and devotion to propagating good merits

स्वधर्मो ब्राह्मणस्याध्ययनमध्यापनं यजनं याजनं दानं प्रतिग्रह - श्वेति ।

(Arthaśāstra)

ब्राह्मण का धर्म अध्ययन-अध्यापन, यज्ञ याजन और दान देना तथा दान लेना है ।

The duty of the Brahman is study, teaching, performance of sacrifice, officiating in others' sacrificial performance and the giving and receiving of gifts.
